PANORAMA OF KILAUEA.

Jules Tavernier, an eminent artist, has just completed a panorama painting representing the Caldera of Kilauea, Sandwich Islands. This is an accurate representation of the great inclosure containing many active volcanic craters, and was completed when they were at a maximum activity last year. It is now on its way to the United States for exhibition. It is said to be intensely realistic, the incandescent lava being vividly represented, and the whole conception is successfully carried out.—[Chicago Tribune Feb. 20.]

BOOKS.

This is a book age. There are books and books. They are wonderfully cheap, too. No man, however great and rapid a reader, can possibly read all the new books that are constantly multiplying. The best thing to do under the circumstances, is to select the best. But how can a man know what is the best until he has formed a judgment by reading? The publisher's names are a kind of guarantee of quality. Respectable publishers will not publish trash. The following list is well authenticated:—Sea and Land, Conquering the Wilderness, Cyclopaedia of Live-Stock, World Ashore, Abraham Lincoln, Pictorial Royal Quarto Bible, and Parallel Family Bible.
These are said to be all valuable books. If any man would like to secure the agency for the sale of any one or all of them, he may learn how to do by enquiring at the BULLE-TIN office.

HONOLULU RIFLES.

The special meeting of the Honolulu Rifles, last evening, was attended by about fifty members. A new constitution, for the battalion, drawn up by a special committee, was read and passed. The committee of arrangements on the drill and dance, last Friday evening, was requested to draw up a letter of thanks to those who kindly assisted the Rifles in their entertainment, and publish it in the Honolulu press. A committee of three—W. A. Kinney, W. E. Rowell and Sergeant E. F. Bishop—was appointed by the chair to engross the letter of thanks to the donors of the flag given to the Rifles. A vote of thanks was passed to Mr. F. Horn, for his efficient endeavors at the entertainment, Friday night, and for a delicious supply of ice cream and cakes sent to the armory last evening. Next Thursday evening was set for the division of the Rifles into companies, and for the election of officers for the battalion. Five new members were elected, making the membership about one hundred.
The meeting adjourned at 9:30 o'clock, with three deafening cheers for Captain V. V. Ashford.

THE BRAVE DRUMMER BOY.

Major Hendershot and son are "drawing cards" wherever they publicly appear, and the entertainment they give on the first night is always sure to pack the house on the second.

The people of this State are becoming familiar with the Major's history and delight to honor him and hear the music of his wonderful drum whenever and wherever they have opportunity to do so.

He was the drummer boy of the 9th Michigan Volunteer Infantry in 1861, when but 12 years of age.
He was taken prisoner at Murfreesborough, Tenn., one year later, paroled and discharged. He veteranized by re-enlisting in the 8th Michigan Infantry and at the battle of Fredericksburg, Va., performed such gallant and distinguished service that President Lincoln could not withhold words of hearty praise, and Gen. Grant and Meade and Burnside cheerfully testified to his commanding courage. He surrounded and took prisoner one of the Johnny "rebs" and in turn lost his drum by having it demolished by a bursting shell. Soon after he participated in one of those desperate charges that leaves but few to tell the tale, and came out of it with the tokens of its terrors in the shape of two wounds—one in the face, the other in the leg.

Is it any wonder that those highest in authority should commend the brave lad and that Horace Greeley should present him with the finest drum the country could produce?

Those who attend either or both of the entertainments announced for the Major's appearance in Napa will hear music beat out of that identical solid silver drum with the gold-tipped sticks that were presented with it.

try have a medical college and a

SUPREME COURT.

BEFORE PRESTON, J.

MONDAY, March 28th.

Thos. H. Patterson vs. the bark Kalakaua, libel of intervention.

Hearing upon claim of the captain, G. N. Armstrong, for certain personal property aboard the vessel.
Said claim having been filed March 15, 1887. The Court orders that the Marshal make an inventory of all goods and stores aboard the vessel, and that he make a separate inventory of goods belonging to the captain, G. N. Armstrong; also, that representatives of the owners, of the captain and libellant, may be present at the taking of said inventory.

His Excellency A. Rosa for the captain, F. M. Hatch for the vessel and owners, W. A. Whiting for libellant, and W. A. Kinney for the nine seamen.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus was duly formulated by Mr. W. A. Kinney, of Smith, Thurston & Kinney, on behalf of Manuel Brito, a Portuguese. Brito was up before the Police Court on the 17th inst., and pleaded guilty to a charge of having opium unlawfully in possession, under section 4, Session Laws of 1886, whereupon he was fined $1,000, and committed for two years hard labor. The petition was granted, a writ issued and the hearing took place this forenoon at 10 o'clock.

THE MATCH INDUSTRY.

A match is a small thing, but in the manufacture of matches one of the great corporations of this country has grown up. It originated in a combination of the leading match manufacturers. The capital stock is somewhere in the vicinity of $20,- 000,000 to $25,000,000. Last year a dividend of 8 percent was declared on this capitalization. The combination does not have entirely clear sailing. It is obliged at times to put prices down to the cost in order to drive competitors out of the business. Talking at the Hoffman House recently with John Robinson, the Chicago manager of the company, he said: "They have got matches down to a fine point in Michigan. They are selling three boxes—that is, 900 matches, for 2 cents. There was a little factory started at Grand Rapids. Matches were then selling at $2.50 a case.
They put down the price a little and we were obliged to meet them. They kept running down and we kept meeting them until it got down to $1.25 a case. Then we took the initiative and dropped to 81. The retailers had stocked up at from $1.25 to $1.75, which were thought bottom prices.
Now they had to get rid of the matches at any sacrifice, and they began to cut. When they had slashed around to the dollar limit one man, who had been losing trade by the drive on matches, put his down to three boxes for 2 cents.
That is 96 cents a case, or 4 cents less than he can duplicate them for.
The other dealers offered to buy out his entire stock, but he wouldn't sell. He saw his trade coming back with the sale of matches at that price." It struck me in this episode there was a photograph of American business life of startling vividness.—[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

AN EMPEROR'S SLAVES.

I have been told that there are about 5,000 male slaves in the Chinese Emperor's palace, a figure which is, of course, very difficult to control. The number, however, must be large, since that class of individuals is alone called upon to fill posts which everywhere else are usually given to men. Their business is to keep sharp watch over the Emperor's harem, an institution of no great service for the time being, since His Majesty is yet a minor; but in view of its becoming serviceable some day, and to pay meet homage to the rites of religion.

The Empress selects the young beauties admitted into this Chinese seraglio, and she has to renew the personnel every three years. These young girls are recruited among the families of the Manchou officers, who look upon the honor of having the prettiest of their daughters in the imperial harem as a means of attaining high rank. These young ladies make their "debut" at the age of 14 and remain inside the harem until they are 25 years old. If in the interval they give birth to offspring they by right become "daughters of the imperial blood," and remain bound with the fate of the child, for he may become a "Son of Heaven" and sovereign heir to 10,000 kingdoms. If, on the other hand, the young lady reaches the age of 25 without yielding increase to the imperial household she is sent home to her illustrious parents and honestly weds a Mandarin of the place.

The legal ex-concubine of the Emperor is honored as a person of high rank, having held at Court the most exalted position. The Emperor is entitled to seven only of these legal concubines, but the number of illegal ones placed at his disposal is unlimited. That accounts for the large number of guardian eunuchs engaged to watch over and serve all these seraglio princesses, who are placed under the vigilant superintendence of the Empress.

Such manners appear very strange to us at first sight; but genuine Chinamen, who hold out staunchly for ancestral worship, find them practical and good, and ascribe to them the results that Chinese civilization has attained. They can not imagine how a nation can be endowed with better manners if it hopes to endure as long as the ages.
The throne and family are thus never without heirs. This institution of eunuchs is not of Chinese origin. It was imported, say the learned, from Arabia and Persia, by a renowned Chinese conqueror.
It was at once adopted at the Court of the Mogul sovereigns, and has ever since retained, in spite of varying success, a portion of that occult influence which Orientals are so passionately ready to stand up for and defend.—[Journal des Debats.]

Rapid penmanship is advantageous at the English universities. It is said that one of the most famous of modern English mathematicians was beaten at his university examination by a rival who had practiced fast writing for some weeks beforehand.

Columbia College is to have a new gymnasium. The cost of the building as planned will be from $125,000 to $150,000. It will be three stories high, cover four lots of an area of about ten thousand square feet, and will be erected near the college.
